Cure VCP Disease, Inc. and AllStripes Partner for New VCP Disease Research

Cure VCP Disease, Inc. is excited to partner with the medical data science company AllStripes to create a research database that will power multiple VCP disease research studies.

To move this research forward, we're looking for 40 families/patients willing to contribute their medical records to make this effort as strong as possible. All data shared with researchers is de-identified, or anonymized, meaning no identifying information like name or phone number is shared.
